AMUMA SAYS NO TO PLAY ANNIVERSARY DINNER-DANCE

Fresh off their tremendous concert at Treefort, we are very lucky to have the music of Amuma Says No, from 8–11 PM following the April dinner. Amuma Says No is among the best-known bands playing Basque music in America today. The band brings together the best of traditional trikitixa -- a duo of accordion and tambourine -- with a modern rhythm section and songs sung in the Basque language, Euskara. ASN presents a timeless traditional repertory with a touch of twenty-first century rock, pop and jazz. As it innovates on tradition, ASN creates the new sound they believe represents the aesthetic of their community of American Basques in the Western United States.

EUZKALDUNAK, EST. 1949

In 1949, 500 charter members founded Euzkaldunak. Built as a social club and gathering place, the Basque Center has played an important role in the history of the Basques here. The Basque Center helps maintain the Basque heritage by supporting Basque dancing, events, and gatherings. This has been enabled by the Basque community all across the Treasure Valley coming together for different annual events such as Basque card tournaments, the San Inazio festival, the November Morzilla dinner, and the Shepherder's Ball Dinner and Dance to raise money to help individuals and families in need. The Basque Center fosters the preservation of Basque traditions, a space for those who long for the heritage that makes the Basque culture so distinct. Whether going there daily or weekly, simply being at the Basque Center has become a ritual integral to daily lives. In 2022, the Basque Center celebrates its 73rd year in our community, and we look forward to the next 73 years.

BOISEKO SPRING SHOW THANK-YOUS

Thanks to everyone who came out and watched our Basque Block performance on Sunday, March 13! The kids were great! We really appreciate the support from our families and friends.

We couldn't have done it without all the massive help we received during the spring season and on the day of the performance. Thanks to Rod Wray for supplying and setting up the sound equipment, to Chris Bieter for being emcee, and to Txantxangorriak for their opening set. Thanks to all the teachers and musicians that worked hard these couple of months - it paid off in the end! We also appreciate the Oinkaris and the parent volunteers that helped to bring out chairs, distribute the goodies, and collect the canned donations for the food bank. Lastly, we want to thank the Euzkaldunak board for helping us close the street and providing the treats!

As a reminder, we are off until summer. We will plan to have one practice on July 26 leading up to San Inazio. Enjoy the spring!

BSU BASQUE STUDIES SPRING UPDATES

Every spring the Basque Studies department at Boise State invites a professor to teach graduate students with the aim of highlighting the study of and research into Basque language and culture. This year Dr. Xabier Irujo, professor at University of Nevada, Reno, director of the Center for Basque Studies and professor of genocide studies, was selected for the Eloise Garmendia Bieter chair to work and collaborate with the History Department at Boise State.

Dr. Irujo gave a presentation on February 22 in Dr. Lisa Brady's graduate class History 501: The Study of History, where the students read and analyzed several of Dr. Irujo's publications. They also talked about Dr. Irujo's experience publishing and editing scholarly work as well as insight into his own research and writing process.

Besides working with our graduate students, Dr. Irujo gave two lectures on campus in February. In "Confronting Trauma: Writing about Gernika," Dr. Irujo examined the historical, emotional, and literary effects of the 1937 bombing of Gernika and its impact on the people that lived that traumatic experience as well as in the contemporary Basque Country. He also delivered the lecture "Wor(l)d Building: Writing Historical Fiction" at the Interactive Learning Center.

The Basque Museum & Cultural Center, with the support and collaboration of the Eloise Garmendia Bieter Chair, organized Dr. Irujo's presentation "An Idahoan Named Egurtxiki" on March 3 at the Basque Center. Dr. Irujo talked about the clandestine interviews William Smallwood "Egurtxiki" conducted among survivors of the bombing of Gernika in the spring of 1972.

Dr. Irujo was also a guest on the Boiseko Taupada radio show, which is hosted by professors Nere Lete and Ziortza Gandarias Beldarrain every Friday from 1:30-2:30 PM. Boiseko Taupada played among others the songs "Ilunpeko ezkila" and "Hilerriko su kulunka" composed by Dr. Irujo and his son to commemorate the 700 year anniversary of the War of Beotibar in 1321.

History Corner: Txantxangorriak

History Corner is a featured column in the Euzkaldunak newsletter that is written by members of the Basque Center Renovation Committee. Our seven-decade old building is aging and needs our enthusiasm and support to carry our traditions forward for the next seven decades and beyond. The goals of the History Corner are: 1) highlight the many beloved traditions we can carry out thanks to having access to a Basque Center, and 2) educate members about our rich Boise Basque history.

Dancing has always been part of the culture of the Basque community and of our Basque Center. Dance lessons were available for children as young as three years old. The focus of activities for nearly all Basque Clubs in Idaho, Oregon and Nevada was sponsoring a dance, sometimes in conjunction with a summer picnic. With the advent of the Oinkaris in Boise in 1961, there was a new avenue for a larger group of teenagers and young adults to have extensive participation in dance, performances and travel.

Few opportunities existed in the '50s and '60s outside of dance to experience Basque culture. Occasionally there would be a Basque language class or a choir organized for a particular event. The Basque Music Camps, which developed into our current Udaleku, offered the first Basque multi-course experiences. The camps provided learning of sports, games (including card games), music with "Basque instruments," songs, language and dance.

New opportunities for children, teens, and adults to learn to play Basque music emerged following Jaialdi 2000. A group of mixed-age musicians called Txorimaloak Soinu Taldea from the Basque Country had been invited to perform. Performers ranged from 3 to 24 years of age, mixing many cultural elements that reflected a slightly modern style. Jaialdi audiences enjoyed sounds from piano accordions, trikitixak (button accordions), panderoak (tambourines), goilarak (spoons), kriskitinak (castanets)—and from the oldest Basque instruments, the txalaparta and the adarra (horn).

After watching the enthusiasm and interest created by Txorimaloak's performances, Gina Ansotegui Urquidi and Ana Mendiola had a vision to create a similar group in Boise. Txantxangorriak, affectionately called "Txan-txan," began in 2001 and continues to this day. The pictures shown in this article were taken at the March 13, 2022 Spring performances of Txan-txan and Boiseko Gazteak in the Basque Block.

Boise's Txan-txan group focuses on trikitixa and pandero players, though the group has also experimented with singing, txalaparta, and spoons as additional instrumentation. With musicians as young as 8 and as old as seniors (not as in high school but those who often get discounts on their coffee), the eclectic group demonstrates a vital part of Basque culture with their music. Txantxangorriak is a reality that continues to flourish only because of the dedication of its instructors. Dan Ansotegui has taught triki since the beginning in 2001. Pandero instruction began with Ryan Schaffner, and the torch has passed to Spencer Martin, then Sean Aucutt, and now Alaina Gavica over the years. The time devoted by the teachers has made it possible for Txan-txan to celebrate over 20 years of Basque music. Txan-txan performances are uplifting and happy events; and the group has performed in cultural festivals in Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming and Washington.

Like the many Basque groups in Boise that depend on our facility, Txan-txan musicians learn, practice, teach and often perform in our Basque Center. Supporting groups like Txantxan is one of the many reasons to update and modernize our Basque Center—for ourselves and those generations to follow. If any of our readers have an interest in joining or learning more about Txantxangorriak, please contact Olaia Urquidi Beals at 208 871-4668 or at urquidibeals90@gmail.com. Basques and non-Basques are welcome in Txan-txan. (Minimum age is normally 8 years for pandero and 10 years for triki.) Olaia would love to talk with you!

History corner is a community supported project, and we need YOUR help telling the history of our Basque Center and the community organizations that call it home. We're working on a story about the Boise San Inazio Festival over the years, and we'd love your favorite memories, first-hand accounts, and pictures. What was the first San Inazio you attended? What do you remember about San Inazio in your younger years?
